Regarding the schedule for sending out the letters with the drinking water and food/soil samples, I think mid-December is unrealistic. The validation of the drinking water data is complete (I will send out the validated results very soon), but we have not yet received all the data from the ODA lab because they experienced some problems with one of their instruments. Perhaps we could be a little less precise and say something like "by the end of the year". If ODA can give us an update on when we can expect to receive the data, then we can provide a deadline to deliver the validation package to OHA.

Thanks, Sheila

Jae,

Attached is the draft letter with my minor comments. My comments reflect the fact that DEQ was in the field with EPA collecting soil, water, veg., etc. samples.
